

Child & Adolescent Mental Health- Self Help Resources

There are lots of Self Help publications that you can access online and via internet searches. It is also considered good practice for charities and organisations, including the NHS, to provide accessible information to people about their condition and treatment.

Self help materials and interventions have been thought helpful as a psychological intervention in their own right as well as a good starting point to therapist-delivered care. Many self help materials use a cognitive, behavioural or problem-solving approach which many young people have found useful and can provide information which is a good starting point. All information here has been collated from Ref Help pages. However please note that if you are concerned about any deterioration or worsening of symptoms then please discuss this with the person that referred you or gave you this handout
